Your Involvement

The PRISMGLASS management team is totally committed to this policy but success can only be achieved with everyone's commitment and involvement. We can all contribute by raising safety issues, by helping to resolve them and by personal efforts towards safety in all our activities.

Management is responsible for preventing injuries: however we all have an individual responsibility under the health and Safety (At Work) Act to work safely and not to endanger others or ourselves by committing or condoning unsafe acts.

Please remember your personal responsibilities and encourage your colleagues to do the same. A good safety record ensures business continuity.

This policy shall be reviewed annually or if there is a change in policy, process, procedure, legislation or raw material.
